

Bringing Dairy to Life!

Find Dairy on the Air on your favorite channel

Dairy on the Air is a new podcast produced by Midwest Dairy, featuring relevant conversations about issues and trends in the dairy community. Hosted by Midwest Dairy CEO Lucas Lentsch, listen in as he talks with dairy farmers, industry experts and other trends impacting the dairy industry.

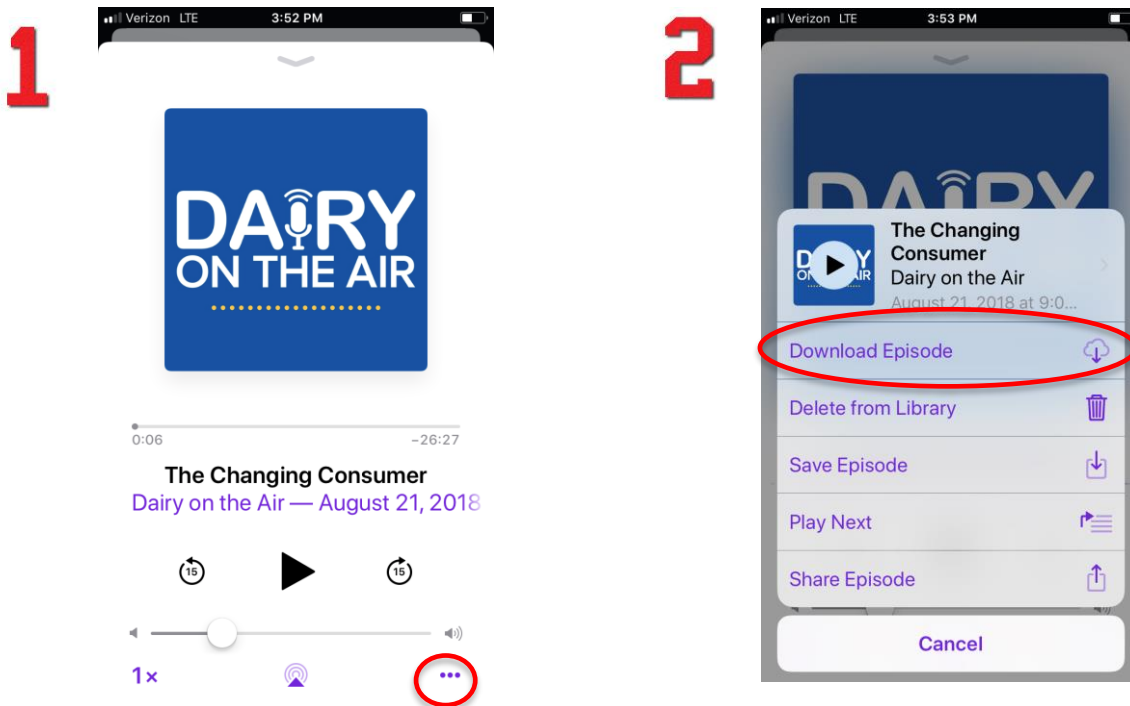

Where you can find the latest episodes of Dairy on the Air?

Listen to Dairy on the Air in the barn, your vehicle or tractor, from your smart speaker, such as Alexa or Google Home, using podcast platforms, such as iTunes or Stitcher. You can also tune in on your desktop computer at MidwestDairy.com.

Listening on iTunes

On your iPhone, choose either the podcast or iTunes app and search for Dairy on the Air. Click on the Dairy on the Air icon and choose an episode to play. If you would like to download to your phone for off-line listening:

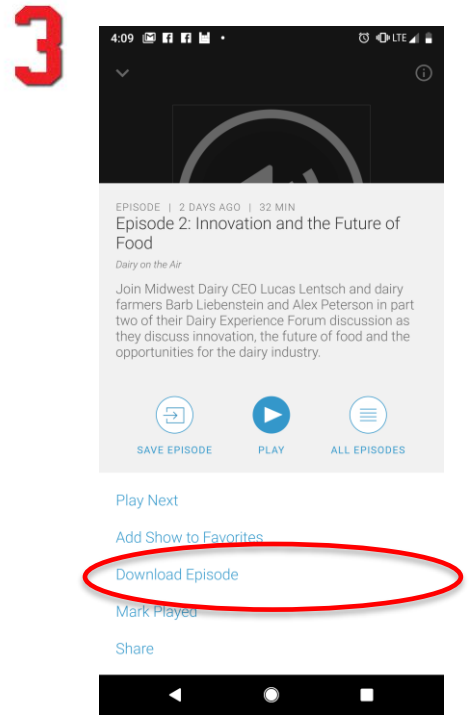

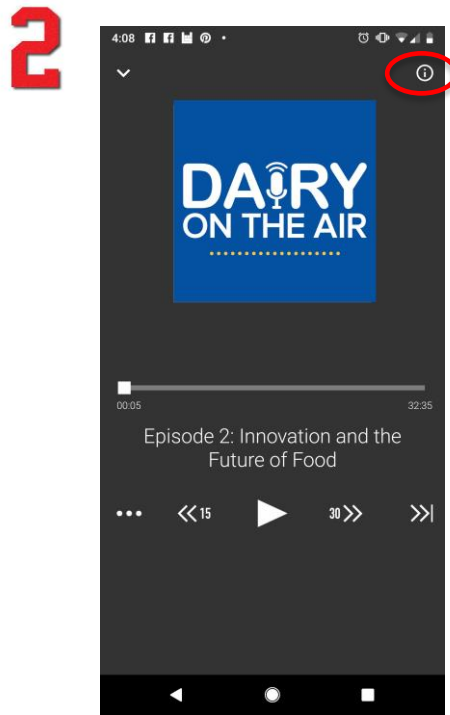

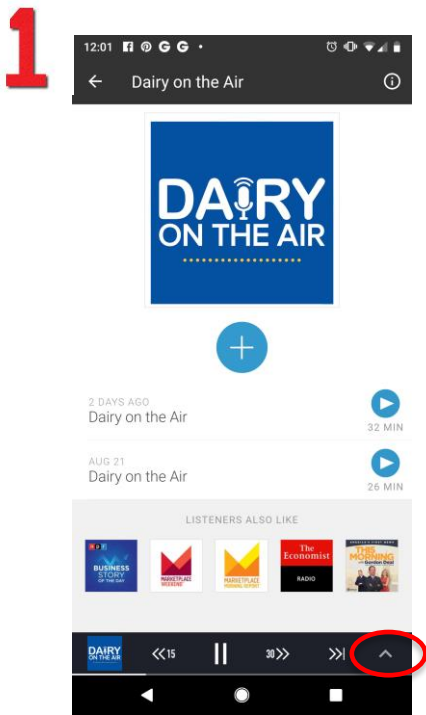

1. Click on the ellipses in the lower right corner.
2. Choose to download the desired episodes to enjoy.

Listening on Stitcher

In the Stitcher app, search for Dairy on the Air. Click on the Dairy on the Air icon and choose an episode to play. If you would like to download to your phone for off-line listening:

1. Click on the arrow ^ in the lower right corner.
2. Choose the information icon to bring up the screen with the option to download the desired episode.
3. Click download episode to enjoy.

Listening on MidwestDairy.com

Go to <https://www.midwestdairy.com/dairy-resource-center/dairy-on-the-air/>. Click on either the photo or the episode title. This will open a new page showing your computer's media player. Hit play and enjoy!

